OUTSTANDING STUDENT EMPLOYEE CELEBRATION SET FOR APRIL 17

A celebration is planned for April 17, from 11 a.m. to noon on the University House Patio to recognize 20 nominees for Cal Poly's Outstanding Student Employee of the Year Award. The 2007-08 Outstanding Student Employee of the Year will also be announced. President Baker will give remarks and congratulate each student nominee. Cal Poly student employees, supervisors and supporters of student employees are welcome to attend. Attendees are invited to roll out the red carpet and celebrate the important achievements, contributions and exceptional service student employees give to the university. For more information, contact Luann McDonald, at ext. 6-5885.

VICE PROVOST CANDIDATES TO VISIT CAMPUS BEGINNING APRIL 21

PROVOST’S CIVIC ENGAGEMENT LECTURE SERIES SET FOR APRIL 30

Nationally renowned speaker, professor and author of nutrition, food studies and public health Dr. Marion Nestle is coming to Cal Poly. The free and public event is scheduled 7 to 8:30 p.m., Wednesday, April 30, in the main gym of the Recreation Center. Nestle is known for her interesting and informative perspective examining the interaction of politics, government regulation, science and food. She explores how corporate control of the nation’s food system limits our choices and threatens our health.

To learn more about the speaker, visit Nestle’s blog at: <http://whattoeatbook.com/about/public-appearances/> and view her broadcasts on YouTube at: http://www.youtube.com/results?search_query=marion+nestle&search_type . For more information, contact the Kinesiology Department at ext. 6-2546.

MOLLAN RECEIVES LEED ACCREDITED PROFESSIONAL CERTIFICATE

Facility Services project manager Cheryl Mollan was recently awarded a LEED Accredited Professional credential by the US Green Building Council. The Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) Green Building Rating System encourages global adoption of sustainable green building and development practices through the creation and implementation of universally accepted tools and performance criteria. LEED professional accreditation distinguishes building professionals with a thorough understanding of green building practices and the knowledge and skills to successfully steward the LEED Certification process.

Mollan, ARCH '06, manages a variety of building improvement and renovation projects, including the ongoing LEED Certification of the Faculty Offices East building. When complete, Cal Poly will be one of the first CSU campuses to independently certify energy efficient and environmentally responsible practices used in the operation and maintenance of existing buildings. LEED certification for the new Poly Canyon Village student housing project is underway and will be the largest LEED certified construction project in the CSU system.

NEW EMAIL EXPECTED BY END OF YEAR

Cal Poly's Information Technology Services announced that campus email and calendar are shifting from Oracle Collaboration Suite to Zimbra Collaboration Suite by the end of 2008. The new email and calendar services are expected to reduce costs, improve reliability, add collaboration tools and increase storage for users. ITS worked with user groups across campus to evaluate and test email and calendar alternatives. User groups agreed that Zimbra allows easy sharing of information between a user's email, calendar and contact lists when using Zimbra's web client, Microsoft Outlook and Apple Mail. Zimbra can also be accessed from a wide range of other desktop clients and mobile devices. ITS staff are working on a project timeline and preparing documentation and training for the move from Oracle to Zimbra. A project Web site will be established within 30 days to provide information to users. For more information about the migration to Zimbra, contact Linda Sandy at ext. 6-6568 or lsandy@calpoly.edu .
